

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY.

A. G. BOYD KILLS ED HOLLY AT CALDWELL, KAN.

TOO FRIENDLY TO BOYD'S WIFE

The Dead Man Was Mrs. Boyd's Cousin—Boyd Came From Cripple Creek and Is Agent at Caldwell for the Armour Packing Company of Kansas City—Holly Died Almost Instantly.

CALDWELL, Kan., Sept. 27.—A tragedy was enacted at 6 o'clock last evening in this city in rooms over the "Diamond Front." G. Boyd, a restaurant keeper, shot and almost instantly killed Ed. Holly, the cause alleged being undue intimacy between Holly and Boyd's wife, who is Holly's first cousin. Boyd has been drinking for several days and has acted queerly. Just before the tragedy he took a drink with a friend but refused a second one because, as he said, he wanted to go up and see if his wife was home. Ten minutes afterwards the shooting occurred.

After the shooting Boyd coolly walked down stairs and out in the back yard, where he was apprehended by William Lockridge, who turned him over to Mayor Horner and City Marshal Hutch. Boyd is from Cripple Creek, Col., and is the agent here for the Armour Packing company, of Kansas City.

A GOOD MAN GONE WRONG.

Treasurer Washburn of the Old Colony Road Short $125,000.

BOSTON, Sept. 26.—The regular meeting of the stockholders of the Old Colony Railroad company was held at the United States hotel, President Choate presiding. The annual report of the directors of the road was read and accepted by a unanimous vote.

A big sensation was sprung on the meeting when it was announced that Treasurer John M. Washburn had been misappropriating the funds of the company. Mr. Washburn, it was said, started in a small way some years ago to take money from the company's cash to speculate with. He lost in these speculations.

A full confession was made by Washburn. He said that he had no idea that he had taken as much money as was missing. Mr. Washburn is 75 years old and has been treasurer of the Old Colony for about thirty years and treasurer of the Old Colony Steamboat company almost from the time it started. He is also treasurer of the Union Freight Line. It was rumored on the street that the amount of the defalcation was $125,000, but Council President Benson said there was no authority for any such statement.

THE RELIGIOUS CONGRESS.

A Free Thinker Wins President Hooley for Damages.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—The president of the world's fair congress auxiliary, Hon. C. C. Hooley, was sued for $5,000 damages yesterday for ordering the expulsion of Free Thinker E. C. Betts from the parliament of religions. Betts claimed to have obtained a concession for the sale of free thinkers' literature in the lobby of the art palace, where the parliament is held. Mr. Hooley was furious at the spectacle of what he considered "infidel books" being distributed in such a place and took summary action with the above result. Julia Ward Howe was the central figure in the parliament yesterday. She received an ovation from the assembly.

Among the speakers were Professor C. M. Wilkins, of Chicago university; President Bonet-Maurey, of France; and Rev. John Graciner, of St. Paul.

WRECK ON THE KATY.

Kins Men Reported Killed Near Fort Worth, Texas.

FORT WORTH, Texas, Sept. 27.—Meager reports were received here last night of a wreck on the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway, near Hillsboro, fifty-seven miles south, in which a collision between a south-bound train and a north-bound freight train, nine men of the bridge gang are reported to have been killed.

Tennessee to Engage in Mining.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 27.—Governor Turner and Attorney General Pickett yesterday approved the agreement entered into by the penitentiary commissioners and the East Tennessee land company for the purchase by the state of 9,000 acres of coal lands in Morgan county for $80,000, and upon the expiration of the present penitentiary lease, the state will go into the coal mining business.

SALSHEBA, Kan., Sept. 27.—Fire at an early hour yesterday morning destroyed property valued at $40,000. The insurance is small. Slosson Bros., dealers in lumber, were the heaviest losers.

ROTTEN BANKING METHODS.

The Investigation of the Kincaid Failure Develops Shady Transactions.

TOPKA, Kan., Sept. 27.—State Bank Commissioner Briedenthal says that as the receivers progress in the investigation of the affairs of the Kincaid banks, that many shady transactions are unearthed and that it has been demonstrated that the financial schemes of Mr. Kincaid were rotten to the core. Mr. Briedenthal said that there has been discovered liabilities unaccounted for, and paper which has been liquidated and which has been turned in as assets, amounting to about $200,000. Each day's developments, Mr. Briedenthal says, shows that the institutions have been systematically wrecked.

Van Hunt Wants a Go at Dixon.

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—Johnny Van Heest, the feather-weight who recently defeated Hugh Napier in New Orleans, is anxious for a fight with Dixon, who he says, promised to give him a fight, whether or not he lost with Solly Smith.

SENATOR STEWART.

HE CONTINUES HIS ATTACK ON THE PRESIDENT.

MR. PALMER ASKS SOME QUESTIONS

Wants the Nevada Statesman to Make Specific Charges, but That Gentleman Thinks They Are Specific Enough—Morgan and Voorhees Defend the President—Washington News.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—In the senate yesterday afternoon Mr. Stewart resumed the floor and read from a paper an article on the president's alleged rebuke to the senate.

Mr. Palmer, Democrat, of Illinois asked whether it was consistent with the proper relations between the senate and the president to read in the senate grave charges against the executive for which he (Mr. Stewart) would not be responsible.

Mr. Stewart said it was consistent for him as a senator to defend the senate when the press said the president was rebuking the senate and calling the senators criminals.

Mr. Palmer wanted Mr. Stewart to indicate a single instance in which the president had employed patronage to control a senator or member of the house.

"Why, my dear sir," said Senator Stewart in a patronizing way, "these charges have been made in the public press, and you have been brought home here and I force you to indicate any one will you deny that patronage has been given to those who will support administration measures?"

"If the senator himself, upon his own responsibility as a senator," replied Mr. Palmer, "will make a charge of that sort, I will confess that I believe it to be correct, or I will deny it; but the idea that the president or his friends are to deny the charges, made against him in the press, seems to me to be a very singular one."

Mr. Stewart reiterated that the charge had been made in the papers.

"Will the senator name a single senator whom he knows or believes has been influenced by the patronage of the president?" asked Mr. Palmer.

"Does the senator want me to make a personal matter of this and divide this down in this way?" asked Senator Stewart, and then as if disgusted, "O, please!" He asked Mr. Palmer if he would vote for a resolution authorizing an investigation of the question.

Mr. Palmer said he would when Mr. Stewart would make a charge against any senator or member of the house.

"I do not want to confine it to one senator or member," said Mr. Stewart, "and I might as well say, 'Investigate them if you dare.'"

"I will," replied Mr. Palmer. "Whenever the senator brings forward a charge against any individual in the senate I will vote for an investigation."

"When I make a criminal charge against a particular individual," said Mr. Stewart contemptuously, "the senator from Illinois will allow it to be investigated, but he will not protect the honor of his executive in denying these wholesale charges. He wants me to make a criminal charge against a senator."

Mr. Palmer wanted to ask another question, but Mr. Stewart declined to be interrupted. "I will not make personal charges when the air is full of them."

"They are very windy," Mr. Palmer managed to say.

"Yes, they are very windy," repeated Mr. Stewart. "They blow down upon a good many senators and members."

Mr. Stewart then read a long article from the San Francisco Examiner commenting upon the course of the president. Mr. Stewart closed his speech for the day with a passionate indictment of the executive as "a monster that stalked through the country leveling down the interests of seven states and territories; that claimed to direct the legislation of congress, and whose voice had been heard last week on the east front of the capitol rebuilding the senators."

Morgan rose to a personal explanation, referring to the article in the New York Times of yesterday that no honorable Democrat could listen to that part of Senator Stewart's speech criticizing the president and continue to act with him in obstruction to repeat, "outrages, as a fear in the case with Senator Morgan, he is so implacable and unreasonable an enemy of the president that he subordinates the highest question of privilege and public revenge."

There was an imputation, said Mr. Morgan, that he was the enemy, personally and politically, of the president and of course that the president reciprocated that feeling. He was very happy to state that between the president and himself there existed the most cordial personal relation. They had always existed, and he hoped they ever would. He then paid a glowing tribute to the character of the president.

Mr. Voorhees then rose and said: "I desire to supplement with a few remarks what the senator from Alabama has said. I was very glad to hear the remarks from the senator from Alabama in regard to the assault which has been made upon the president of the United States for the last two days. I desire simply to account for the total silence on this side of the chamber by stating that it has not been thought necessary to say a single word in defense of Grover Cleveland from the time he was born in New Jersey, as stated by the senator from Nevada, until the present hour. On this side of the chamber, and I have reason to believe, on the other side, and all over this country, his defense has been fully made by the American people themselves, and I intend that no criticism shall appear in the press, or be made by any of their allies. I say this because we feel that his great and powerful career disarms all such assaults as have been made upon him."

After a short executive session the senate adjourned.

Sub-Committees Appointed.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Chairman

Springer, of the banking and currency committee, yesterday announced the appointment of the following sub-committees:

On increasing circulation of national banks—Messrs. Sperry of Connecticut, Cobb of Alabama, and Haughen of Wisconsin.

On repeal of tax on circulation of state banks—Messrs. Cox of Tennessee, Springer of Illinois, Warner of New York, Hall of Missouri, and Henderson of Illinois.

FAIR REACHING IN EFFECT.

Congressman Curtis Introduces a Bill Regulating Immigration.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26.—Mr. Curtis of Kansas yesterday presented a bill in the house to further regulate immigration which, if it becomes a law, will be far reaching in effect and tend materially to restrict immigration to the United States. The bill provides that it shall be unlawful for the commanding officer of any vessel to receive any alien passengers bound for the United States if an examination discloses the fact that such person is unable to read or write; that his passage has been paid by any other person, or corporation; who does not possess a single man the sum of $100; if single woman, $100; if head of family, $200, or who is not mentally and physically sound; who has ever been in prison for any infamous crime or misdemeanor; who has ever been convicted of any crime; who is a polygamist, anarchist, or under contract express or implied, to perform labor in the United States.

CHEROKEE STRIP OPENING.

The Secretary of War Called Upon to Explain the Action of the Troops.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The house committee on military affairs yesterday considered the resolution of Delegate Flynn of Oklahoma, calling upon the secretary of war for information regarding the action of troops in the opening of the Cherokee strip.

The committee authorized a favorable report on a substitute for the resolution requesting the secretary of war to inform the house what part the United States army had in the opening of the Cherokee strip under what orders and what the orders were violated and outrages committed on any citizen of the United States.

No More Public Receptions.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—It is understood that the president intends to discontinue reception to the public which have heretofore occurred on three days of the week, substituting special receptions to visiting bodies whenever the occasion justifies.

Granted a Medal of Honor.

INVOLVED IN SCANDAL NOW.

The Daughter of Mrs. Barnaby Rudge—Sent to a Divorce Suit.

HELENA, Mont., Sept. 27.—J. H. Howard of this city today brought suit for divorce and the custody of three minor children, against his wife, Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Howard is the daughter of Mrs. Barnaby, for whose murder Dr. Graves was tried, and Conrad spent about $60,000 in pressing the proceedings against Graves.

Mr. Conrad is one of the leaders of society and a sensation was expected when the case comes to trial.

Kansas State Fair Speakers.

TOPKA, Kan., Sept. 27.—The Kansas State Fair association Sunday night sent telegrams to ex-Minister Robert T. Lincoln and ex-Senator James Harlan of Iowa, asking them to address the people here on the day during the fair next week. On Monday the 30th, the speakers are expected to speak on Democratic day. On Tuesday, the 31st, on Republican day. On Wednesday, the 1st of October, on Equal Suffrage day. Susan B. Anthony will be the attraction.

Condition of Missouri Crops.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Sept. 27.—The state board of agriculture weather crop bulletin says the temperature has ranged six to ten degrees above normal and sunshine has been excessive. Rains have been general. Pastures and meadows have revived and plowing and seeding has recommenced. Corn is mostly in the shock and a great amount of fodder has been secured. The outlook was for frost or the greater part of the state last night, but the advanced condition of all crops precludes the possibility of much damage having been done.

Control of the Pacific Ocean.

MONTREAL, Sept. 27.—The Star has a startling editorial opposing the annexation of the Sandwich Islands by the United States as it constitutes the Malta of the great ocean. The Star adds: "With Hawaii a dependency of Great Britain we can join with Australia in a winning fight for the control of the Pacific, but with Hawaii annexed to the United States our connection is broken at the middle and the light for a place in the commerce of the Orient is made immeasurably difficult."

TWO WEEKS OF TALK.

DEBATE ON THE ELECTION BILL REPEAL BEGUN.

TUCKER STARTS THE BALL ROLLING

Colored People Crowd the Galleries—Leading Speakers of Both Sides to Be Heard on the Question—Mr. Stewart Demands an Investigation of Senator's Interests in Corporations.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—The galleries of the house were well filled yesterday in anticipation of the opening debate on the bill to repeal the federal election laws. There was a particularly heavy attendance in the long public gallery opposite the speaker's chair, which is known as the "cathedral belt." The massing of colored people indicating their great interest in the result of the present struggle.

The two weeks' debate on the Tucker bill was begun by Mr. Tucker of Virginia, the author of the bill, who opened for the Democrats. In a few words he explained the repeal bill.

Mr. Tucker then proceeded to pay his respects to John I. Davenport, whose atrocities, he said, were more infamous than those of the Duke of Alva. The repeal of these laws, he said, in consequence would save many statutes that had caused chafing between the federal government and the states for thirty years.

Mr. Brooks of Pennsylvania, followed Mr. Tucker against the passage of the repeal bill.

No one else being ready to proceed with the debate the motion to adjourn was made, pending which Delegate Flynn of Oklahoma, resolved on calling for information from the war department regarding the actions of the military when the Cherokee strip was opened, was reported, back to the house. Delegate Flynn got the floor and had read copious extracts from the papers regarding the outrage of the military and many letters bearing upon the subject. Among them was a letter from a Congregationalist preacher of the name of De Long of Arkansas City.

Some of the newspaper extracts were very severe in criticizing Secretary of War. These, Mr. Flynn said, were simply samples of the opinions of the newspapers and of the expressions which were pouring in on him by every mail. He proposed in the near future to ask for the passage of a resolution to investigate this matter from the time when the Cherokees were allotted land down to the present time. The point of no quorum was raised and the house adjourned.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Mr. Stewart Catches the Repeaters Napping Without a Quorum.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—When the senate met yesterday the repealer bill were caught napping by Senator Stewart, who observed that there was no quorum present and questioned the propriety of the senate proceeding.

Senator Harris of Tennessee, an ardent silver man, who was presiding in the absence of Vice President Stevenson, who is attending a Democratic meeting in Pennsylvania, promptly ordered a roll call, although the journal had not yet been read. Only thirty-five senators responded, less than a quorum, and a stay of proceedings was necessary until members strolled in one by one to a sufficient number to constitute a quorum.

Mr. Stewart of Nevada then presented resolutions adopted at a mass meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, favoring an investigation to ascertain whether senators were interested in national banks, railroads and other special interests, favored or fostered by legislation. He expressed the hope that the investigation would be had and that the rumors so prevalent might be set at rest that national bank stocks had anything to do with the demonetization of silver.

The repeal bill, of Idaho, then presented resolutions adopted at a mass meeting in Cleveland, Ohio, favoring an investigation to ascertain whether senators were interested in national banks, railroads and other special interests, favored or fostered by legislation. He expressed the hope that the investigation would be had and that the rumors so prevalent might be set at rest that national bank stocks had anything to do with the demonetization of silver.

Mr. Dubois of Idaho, who had given notice of an intention to open yesterday, Mr. Dubois then yielded to Mr. Perkins of California, who spoke against repeal.

THE ELECTIONS LAW DEBATE.

Leading Speakers of Both Sides Will Be Heard From in Order.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—Members on both sides of the political aisle of the house express a general desire to participate in the debate on the bill to repeal the federal election laws. Mr. Tucker will conduct the fight for the Democrats and Mr. Johnson of North Dakota, who will have charge of the opposition, has decided to place Mr. Dilliver, one of the star orators on the Republican side, in the breach to lead the assault against the measure. Thereafter the Republicans and Democrats will alternate.

Among those who have given notice of their desire to speak are Messrs. De Armond of Missouri, Lawson of Pennsylvania, Patterson of Tennessee, Dismore of Arkansas, Martin of Indiana, English of Indiana, Clark of Missouri, Money of Mississippi, Fellows and Cummings of New York, Kayser of Maryland, Johnson of Indiana, Brosius of Pennsylvania, Hall of Iowa, Burrows of Michigan, Payne of New York, Updegraff of Pennsylvania, Cooper of Wisconsin, Cannon of Illinois, Hicks of Pennsylvania and Haughen of Wisconsin. Mr. Johnson has arranged to have ex-Speaker Reed close the debate for the Republican side.
